Community News in Brief

www.llanfrynach-community.org.uk

Our new community website is now live. Please explore it and let us know what you think. Several Community Councillors have created and will manage the website with support from the Welsh Government's Communities 2.0 scheme. We are all beginners in this, so suggestions and feedback are welcome. We hope the website will be useful to residents and visitors alike. If you are a local business, anything from B&B to agricultural contractor or tradesman and would like to have your details, or a link to your own web page, displayed FREE under the business section please contact any community councillor or the clerk, Mrs. Barbara Smith.

Lots of you have expressed an interest in learning or improving your computer skills and details of courses will be announced in the New Year.

Sorry Poops - No Scoops

Following a promise by a Powys County Council to provide poop scoop facilities in Llanfrynach we have now been told there is not enough money to provide manpower to service them. Several communities in Powys have requested the service, which, in spite of being a statutory obligation, has had to be refused because of cutbacks. Thankfully the problem in Llanfrynach seems not to be very great thanks to local people dealing with the matter responsibly - long may it continue.

Your Church - Your Say - Survey

An invitation by the three churches, which make up the Beacons Benefice (Llanhamlach, Llanfrynach and Cantref) to all residents to say how they would like to see their local Church develop in the future, resulted in a wide range of suggestions, criticisms and even a few compliments!

The Benefice appreciates the efforts of everyone who responded - especially the non-churchgoers. The results will be analysed and put in the next newsletter and also on the website (you will find Church under 'organisations').
